

Hispanic HERITAGE MONTH

As a way of celebrating the month, the library recommends using any of the following resources to acknowledge Hispanic contributions across academia, society, and the arts.

Kanopy

This video streaming service is free for PC students and employees to use and offers a variety of films honoring Hispanic actors, filmmakers, and culture. View this programming guide for ideas, or browse through their entire collection.

American Mosaic: The Latino American Experience

Telling the Latino experience first-hand, through the voices of Latino authors and contributors, this database includes hundreds of primary source documents such as maps, images, audio clips, interviews, music files, speeches, documents, links to relevant websites and other material.

World Scholar: Latin America and the Caribbean

This database includes a comprehensive range of content for the region, including primary source documents, periodicals, multimedia and more. It provides research across the humanities both for current issues and events in Latin America and the Caribbean as well as for historical perspective back to the colonial period.

Arizona Memory Project: Arizona Latina Trailblazers

Latina Americans have had a profound, yet often overlooked, impact throughout Arizona's history. This collection shines the spotlight on Latina Pioneers in government, business, law, politics, music and arts.

National Hispanic Heritage Month

National Hispanic Heritage Month offers online exhibits, collections, and links to selected resources for educators. This site also contains links to other relevant websites such as the Smithsonian Institution Hispanic Resources and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Need help finding more sources? Connect with any of your PC librarians for more ideas.