

Classic Mysteries

All titles are available through Nassau Digital Doorway and the Libby app

Sherlock Holmes: the complete novels and stories

by Arthur Conan Doyle Eccentric master detective Sherlock Holmes, with the aid of his partner, Dr. Watson, investigates a series of strange and baffling mysteries in this omnibus edition of a two-volume collection.

The mysterious affair at Styles

by Agatha Christie
This classic manor-house mystery introduces Christie's much beloved character, the detective Hercule Poirot.

The conjure-man dies

by Rudolph Fisher
Perry Dart, one of Harlem's ten African-American black police detectives, investigates the murder of N'Gana Frimbo, the African conjure-man.

The Plague Court murders

by John Dickson Carr
After a medium is murdered in a locked hut in Plague Court, a haunted estate, supersleuth Sir Henry Merrivale is confident that he can find a logical explanation for the crime.

The Maltese Falcon

by Dashiell Hammett
A murder investigation requires private detective Sam Spade--a man of few words who displays little emotion--to become involved in a dangerous search for a valuable statue.

Whose body?

by Dorothy L. Sayers
The first of the Lord Peter Wimsey mysteries, in which the suave and witty gentleman foregoes a rare-book auction to investigate the presence of a bespectacled nude body in an architect's bathtub near Wimsey's Denver estate.

The Bellamy trial

by Frances Noyes Hart
Inspired by the infamous Hall-Mills murder case which helped define the term "media circus," a classic courtroom mystery from 1929 follows the trial of Stephen Bellamy and Susan Ives, who are accused of murdering his wife.

Death in captivity

by Michael Francis Gilbert
A man is found dead in an escape tunnel beneath an Italian POW camp. Accidental collapse--or murder? A classic locked-room mystery woven together with a thrilling story of escape from the camp.

The big sleep

by Raymond Chandler
When a case of blackmail involving the daughter of a California millionaire leads to murder, the inimitable Philip Marlowe is stirred into action.

The Eye of Osiris

by R. Austin Freeman
Dr. John Thorndyke, a medical jurispractitioner bases his solutions on his method of collecting all possible data and making inferences from them before looking at the protagonists and motives in the crimes.

Classic Mysteries

All titles are available through Nassau Digital Doorway and the Libby app

The Leavenworth case

by Anna Katharine Green

A classic locked-room mystery, set in New York, and first published nine years before Sherlock Holmes came on the scene.

Scarweather

by Anthony Rolls

This unorthodox novel from 1934 is a suspenseful read, rich in setting, characters, details about WWI and its aftermath, and a horrific resolution worthy of Hitchcock.

The case of the baited hook

by Erle Stanley Gardner

In one of Perry Mason's most memorable cases, the lawyer risks his freedom to prove the innocence of an unidentified client.

The New York trilogy

by Paul Auster

Quinn, a mystery writer, becomes involved in a puzzling case; Blue is hired by White to spy on Black; and Fanshawe, a gifted novelist, disappears, leaving his family and work behind, in these three interconnected novels.

Cleek of Scotland Yard

by Thomas W. Hanshew

Stories of consulting detective Hamilton Cleek, known as "the man of the forty faces" for his incredible skill at disguise.

The White Cottage mystery

by Margery Allingham

When much-hated Eric Crowther is killed by a shotgun blast at the White Cottage, everyone who knew him has a motive for his murder.

Laura

by Vera Caspary

The story of the life and murder of Laura is narrated by three very different men--gossip columnist Waldo Lydecker, her fiancé Shelby Carpenter, and Detective Mark McPherson, whose job is to reconstruct the life of the enigmatic murder victim to find her killer.

The law and the lady

by Wilkie Collins

Better known for The Moonstone and The Woman in White, here is Wilkie Collins with the first full-length novel with a woman detective.

The daughter of time

by Josephine Tey

A hospitalized English policeman reconstructs historical evidence concerning Richard III's role in the murder of Edward IV's two sons.

Footsteps in the dark

by Georgette Heyer

A series of mysterious and eerie events, including a supposed haunting, lead to murder at the ancient priory mansion near Framley Village.

Long Beach Public Library

111 West Park Ave

Long Beach, New York 11561 | 516-432-7201

www.longbeachlibrary.org