

The Return

by Nicholas Sparks

The best-selling romance author returns with a new story in the tradition of Dear John. Moving into a family beekeeper cabin to recuperate from war injuries, an Afghanistan veteran falls in love with a guarded sheriff while working with a sullen local teen to investigate the mystery of a grandparent's death.

The Star-Crossed Sisters of Tuscany

by Lori Nelson Spielman

After visiting their great-aunt in Italy, three second-born daughters embark on a journey to help fulfill the great-aunt's final (and very relevant) wish -- breaking a family curse that has prevented all second-born daughters from marrying.

How to Fail at Flirting

by Denise Williams

Professor Naya Turner, a Type-A overachiever, is challenged by her friends to start enjoying her life after her university department is cut. She embarks on a daring to-do list that involves leaving an abusive ex and pursuing a career-risking fling with a charming stranger.

Room-maid

by Sariah Wilson

For Madison to be free of her family's influence, she'll also need to be free of their wealth. A teacher's salary alone isn't enough for a place of her own, so Madison accepts a position as a roommaid: In exchange for free room and board, she keeps financial whiz Tyler's penthouse clean. Tyler's everything Madison has run from, but his kindhearted nature and unexpected insecurities only make her want to get closer.

South Country Library

22 Station Road
Bellport, New York 11713
(631) 286-0818
<http://www.sctylib.org/>

Conventionally Yours

by Annabeth Albert

Stuck together on a cross-country road trip to the biggest fan convention of their lives, rivals Conrad and Alden find their goals to win an upcoming tournament challenged by their unexpected feelings for each other. (LGBTQ)

The Flip Side

by James Bailey

Careful planning has landed Josh broke, single, and moving back with his parents, so he starts making decisions by flipping a coin, since he doesn't have anything to lose. But when the chance of a lifetime and the girl of his dreams are on the line, will the coin guide him to a rich love life or leave him flat broke?

Written in the Stars

by Alexandria Bellefleur

A holiday romance inspired by Pride and Prejudice depicts the experiences of a free-spirited social media astrologer who agrees to a fake relationship with a no-nonsense actuary to appease their respective families. The last thing they expect is to develop real feelings during a faux relationship. (LGBTQ)

Spoiler Alert

by Olivia Dade

When her viral fan-fiction leads to a disastrous publicity-stunt date with her celebrity crush, a talented plus-sized writer discovers that the actor secretly writes his own popular fan-fiction against studio rules. With love and career on the line, can the two of them stop hiding once and for all, or will a match made in fandom end up prematurely cancelled?

A Rogue of One's Own

(A Leage of Extraordinary Women #2)

by Evie Dunmore

A sequel to Bringing Down the Duke finds an Oxford suffragist's campaign to use a hard-won publishing house as a voice of protest challenged by an irresistible rogue bent on taking control away from her.

Just Like You

by Nick Hornby

Miserably married to a man with whom she once shared everything in common, Lucy forges an unexpected bond with her 22-year-old babysitter, a man from an entirely different class, culture and generation. By the best-selling author of About a Boy and High Fidelity.

Ties That Tether

by Jane Igharo

Unexpectedly falling in love with a white man after her mother's latest disastrous matchmaking effort, a young Nigerian woman struggles to follow her heart without breaking her mother's or compromising her own identity.

Love Your Life

by Sophie Kinsella

Discarding her dating app to enjoy a post-breakup anonymous writers' retreat in coastal Italy, Ava shares an idyllic love affair with a fellow romantic before their return to London forces them to acknowledge their true identities.

In a Holiday

by Christina Lauren

Finding herself caught in a time loop that has her repeating the same disastrous family Christmas in a snowy Utah cabin, Mae endures one hilarious setback after another to break the cycle and find true love under the mistletoe. It's Love Actually meets Groundhog Day, by the author of The Honey-Don't List.

Snapped

by Alexa Martin

Managing the loss of a parent by immersing herself in her career with the Denver Mustangs, a communications manager fights for her job while clashing with an athlete who angers the management by staging an act of peaceful protest.

(The Playbook #4)