

Romance Spring 2021

Early Morning Riser

by Katherine Heiny

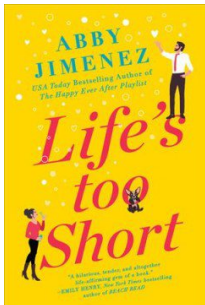

Jane falls in love with Duncan easily. He is charming, good-natured, and handsome, but unfortunately he has also slept with nearly every woman in the city. What results is a bighearted, boundlessly joyful novel of love, disaster, and unconventional family from the celebrated author of Standard Deviation.

People We Meet on Vacation

by Emily Henry

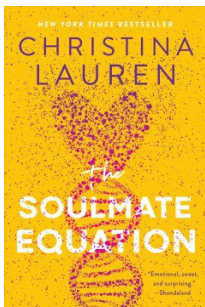

Best friends Alex and Poppy try to repair their relationship two years after a disastrous vacation together...by planning another vacation together. A new novel from the New York Times best-selling author of Beach Read.

Life's Too Short

by Abby Jimenez

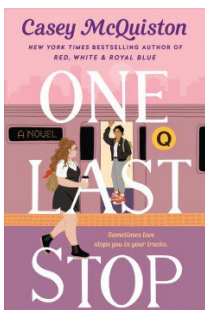

Gaining an unexpected online following after quitting her job to travel the world, a woman anticipating a short life becomes the guardian of her infant niece before her resolve to avoid relationships is tested by a baby-savvy lawyer.

The Soulmate Equation

by Christina Lauren

Perfect for fans of The Rosie Project and One Plus One, this entertaining novel follows single mom and statistics wizard Jess Davis as she, using a revolutionary new dating app, is matched with the app's arrogant creator who is not what he seems.

One Last Stop

by Casey McQuiston

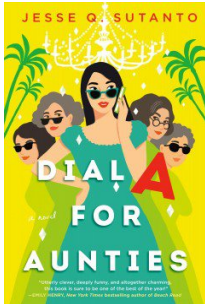

Cynical August starts to believe in the impossible when she meets Jane on the subway, a mysterious punk rocker she forms a crush on, who is literally displaced in time from the 1970s and is trying to find her way back. (LGBTQ)

Open Water

by Caleb Azumah Nelson

In a London pub, two young people meet. Both are Black British, and both are artists trying to make their mark in a world that both celebrates and rejects them. Tentatively, they fall in love. But two people who seem destined to be together can still be torn apart by fear and violence, and over the course of a year, they find their relationship tested by forces beyond their control.

Dial A for Aunties

by Jesse Q. Sutanto

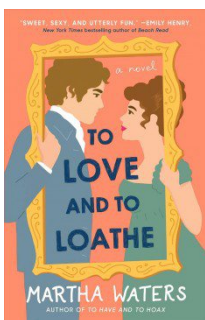

Accidentally causing the death of a blind date, Meddy is persuaded by her meddlesome Chinese-Indonesian mother and aunts to dispose of the body, which upends a billionaire's wedding and Meddy's reunion with a former flame.

Second First Impressions

by Sally Thorne

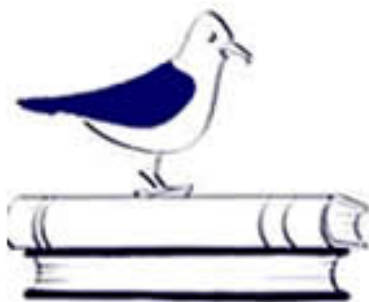

A spoiled, tattooed rich man reluctantly agrees to become an assistant to two casually exploitative nonagenarians before unexpectedly catching the eye of the property's serious-minded manager. By the best-selling author of The Hating Game.

To Love and to Loathe

by Martha Waters

When his skills in the bedroom are called into question by his latest mistress, the Marquess of Willingham asks Diana, Lady Templeton, to have a brief affair so that he can receive an honest critique — a wager that puts both their hearts on the line.
