

The Wolf and the Woodsman

by Ava Reid

Inspired by Hungarian history and Jewish mythology, this debut novel follows Évike, a young pagan woman, as she, rescued by Gáspár, the one-eyed captain of the Woodsmen (and a disgraced prince), makes a tenuous pact to stop his brother from instigating a violent reign.

Ariadne

by Jennifer Saint

For fans of Madeline Miller's Circe. This feminist retelling of the Greek Myth of Theseus and the Minotaur follows Ariadne as she defies the gods and betrays her family and country to help Theseus, her love, kill the Minotaur. Will Ariadne's decision lead to a happy ending? And what of the beloved younger sister she left behind?

Meet Me in Another Life

by Catriona Silvey

Thora and Santi are strangers in a foreign city when a chance encounter intertwines their fates, and they recognize in each other a longing for more out of life. Days later, a tragic accident cuts their story short. But this is only one of the many connections they share. They meet again in different realities, in a love story that explores what defines us and how our choices can change everything.

Sorrowland

by Rivers Solomon

Fleeing from the strict religious compound where she was raised, Vern, in the safety of the forest, gives birth to twins. To keep her small family safe, she unleashes brutality far beyond what a person should be capable of. Her body becomes wracked by uncanny changes. To understand her metamorphosis and protect her family, Vern must face the past, and a future outside the woods.

Hummingbird Salamander

by Jeff Vandermeer

After receiving the taxidermied specimens of two endangered species, a software manager becomes the target of the ecoterrorists and wildlife traffickers behind a catastrophic global conspiracy. By the award-winning author of the Southern Reach trilogy.

The Chosen and the Beautiful

by Nghi Vo

Step back into the time of Gatsby, but from a different point of view. Treated as an exotic attraction by her peers, Jordan Baker, queer and Asian, has the world of illusion, magic and mystery at her fingertips but the most important doors remain closed to her until she can figure out a way to open them. (LGBTQ)

Project Hail Mary

by Andy Weir

The sole survivor on a desperate, last-chance mission to save both humanity and the earth, Ryland Grace is hurtled into the depths of space to conquer an extinction-level threat to our species. From the best-selling author of The Martian.
