

Fiction in Translation

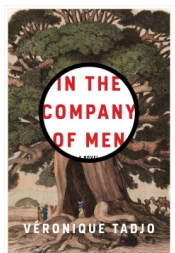

All titles are available through Nassau Digital Doorway and the Libby app

Out stealing horses

by Per Petterson

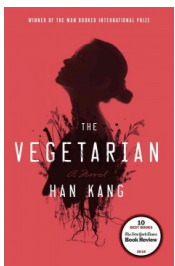

After a meeting with his only neighbor, 67-year-old Trond is forced to reflect upon a long-ago incident that marks the beginning of a series of losses for Trond and his childhood friend, Jon.

In the company of men

by Véronique Tadjo

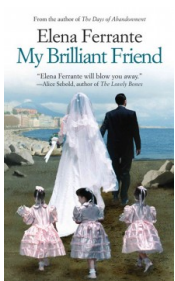

Drawing on real accounts of the Ebola outbreak that devastated West Africa, this poignant, timely fable reflects on both the strength and the fragility of life and humanity's place in the world.

The vegetarian

by Kang Han

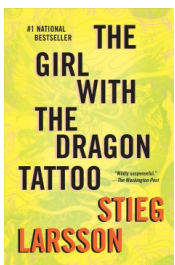

Deciding to go vegetarian in the wake of violent thoughts, Yeong-hye, a woman from a culture of strict societal mores, is called a subversive and spirals into extreme rebelliousness.

My brilliant friend: childhood, adolescence

by Elena Ferrante

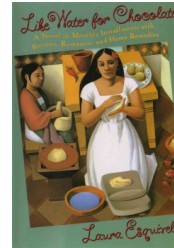

Beginning in the 1950s Elena and Lila grow up in Naples, Italy, mirroring two different aspects of their nation.

The Girl With the Dragon Tattoo

by Stieg Larsson

Forty years after the disappearance of Harriet Vanger, her octogenarian uncle, convinced that she had been murdered by someone from her own deeply dysfunctional clan, hires journalist Mikael Blomqvist and Lisbeth Salander, an unconventional young hacker, to investigate.

Like water for chocolate: a novel in monthly installments, with recipes, romances, and home remedies

by Laura Esquivel

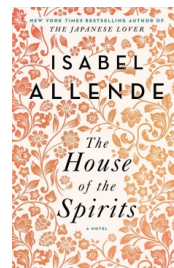

A combination fairy tale, melodrama, romance, Mexican cookbook, and home remedy handbook, the hugely popular best-seller.

The dinner

by Herman Koch

Meeting at a restaurant for dinner, two couples face the shared challenge of their teenage sons' violent act that revealed the extent to which each family will go to protect those they love.

The house of the spirits

by Isabel Allende

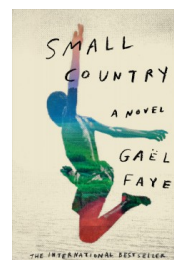

Brings to life the triumphs and tragedies of three generations of the Trueba family. An enthralling epic that spans decades and lives, weaving the personal and the political into a universal story of love, magic, and fate.

The Wind-up Bird Chronicle

by Haruki Murakami

The saga of a mysteriously disintegrating marriage, suppressed memories of the tragedies of war, and a young man's search for his personal and national identity, set against the backdrop of 20-century Japan.

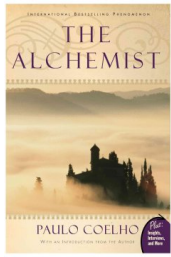

Small country

by Gal Faye

A prize-winning best-seller from France, set in 1992 Burundi, traces the shattered childhood of a 10-year-old boy whose life in an idyllic expatriate neighborhood is brutally impacted by war and genocide.

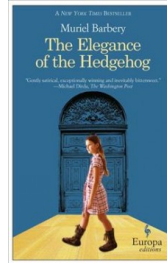

Fiction in Translation

The alchemist

by Paulo Coelho

A fable about undauntingly following one's dream, listening to one's heart, and reading life's omens, features dialogue between a boy and an unnamed being.

The elegance of the hedgehog

by Muriel Barbery

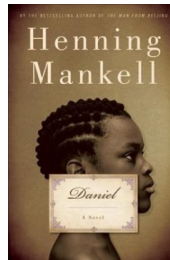

The lives of concierge Rene Michel and extremely bright, suicidal twelve-year-old Paloma Josse are transformed by the arrival of a new tenant, Kakuro Ozu.

Every man dies alone

by Hans Fallada

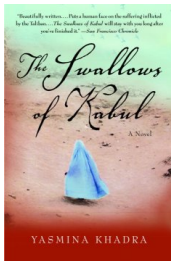

The story of a working-class German couple who lose their son to war and begin a small resistance movement against Nazi power.

Daniel

by Henning Mankell

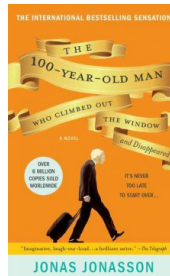

After a late-19th century Swede adopts an African boy and takes him to Sweden, Daniel must adjust to his new surroundings while dealing with nightmares of his dead parents and decides that he must learn to walk on water to get back to Africa.

The swallows of Kabul

by Yasmina Khadra

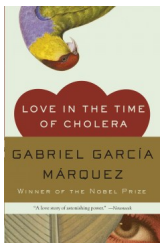

Their lives as a diplomat and lawyer frozen by the ascendancy of the Taliban, Moshen and Zunaira find their situation descending into nightmarish proportions when Zunaira is arrested and condemned to death.

The 100-Year-Old Man Who Climbed Out the Window and Disappeared

by Jonas Jonasson

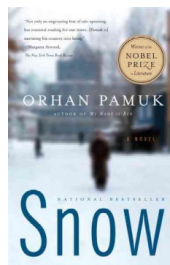

Confined to a nursing home, Allan Karlsson, a former explosives expert, climbs out of the window in his slippers and embarks on an unforgettable adventure.

Love in the time of cholera

by Gabriel García Márquez

Set on the Caribbean coast of South America, this love story brings together Fermina Daza, her distinguished husband, and a man who has secretly loved her for more than fifty years

Snow

by Orhan Pamuk

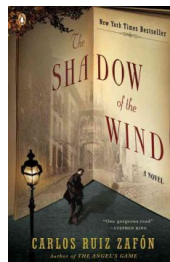

After years of lonely political exile, Turkish poet Ka returns to Istanbul to attend his mother's funeral and learns about a series of suicides among pious girls forbidden to wear headscarves.

Suite française

by Irène Némirovsky

Published more than 60 years after the author's death at Auschwitz, a remarkable story of life under the Nazi occupation.

The shadow of the wind

by Carlos Ruiz Zafón

A boy named Daniel selects a novel from a library of rare books, enjoying it so much that he searches for the rest of the author's works, only to discover that someone is destroying every book the author has ever written.

Long Beach Public Library

111 West Park Ave

Long Beach, New York 11561 | 516-432-7201

www.longbeachlibrary.org