The Ones We're Meant to Find by Joan He

Genre: Dystopian Fiction (E-Book)

Summary: Cee is stranded on an abandoned island with no one but herself to keep her company. She has no recollection of how she arrived or her life before the island, she only remembers her sister Kay and that she has to find her. Kasey is a scientific genius living in an eco-city due to the poor state of Earth caused by climate change. The eco-city provides resources with the cost of in-person travelling. One day Celia took a boat to sea, taking all of her secrets with her, never to return. Joan He has a beautiful style of setting the pace of the book, for each page you read you want to read two more. She paints a beautiful setting with only her words and imagination. Teen readers would enjoy this book due to the dystopian setting that may very well become reality. I would recommend this book to readers who enjoy Sci-fi, Apocalyptic, and Dystopian genres.
