The hunger

by Alma Katsu

A supernatural reimagining of the Donner Party story. A group of pioneers navigate sanity-testing misfortunes, including the strange death of a little boy and a series of disappearances that lead to an accusation of witchcraft.

Ring shout

by P. Djèlí Clark

A foul-mouthed sharpshooter and a Harlem Hellfighter fight a supernatural Ku Klux Klan in Macon, Georgia in the early 20th century.

The shining

by Stephen King

Jack Torrance sees his stint as winter caretaker of a Colorado hotel as a way back from failure, his wife sees it as a chance to preserve their family, and their son sees the evil waiting for them.

The last house on needless street

by Catriona Ward

When someone moves in next door, the family—a teenage girl who isn't allowed outside, a man with memory loss, and a house cat who reads the Bible—are terrified that their terrible secret will be exposed.

The devil in silver

by Victor D. LaValle

Landing in a mental institution after being accused of a crime he does not remember, Pepper is assaulted by a monstrous creature that has been attacking patients.

We hear voices

by Evie Green

A mother who initially disregards her recovering son's imaginary friend in their pandemic-stricken world becomes concerned when her son's alter-ego compels the boy to engage in increasingly violent behavior.

The hollow places

by T. Kingfisher

A young woman discovers a strange portal in her uncle's house, leading to madness and terror.

Hammers on bone

by Cassandra Khaw

John Persons is a PI with a distasteful job from an unlikely client. He's been hired by a ten-year-old to kill the kid's stepdad, McKinsey. The man in question is abusive, abrasive, abominable, ...and a literal monster.

Bird box

by Josh Malerman

In a world where no one can go outside or open the door for fear of letting "them" in, single mother Malorie and her children must leave the house and risk everything to survive.

Awakened

by James S. Murray

The first train through a new state-of-the-art NYC subway is found empty and drenched in blood, signaling the release of an ancient horror and civilization-destroying dark forces.

HORROR

The mask

by Dean R. Koontz

Behind the deceptively sweet face of a child adopted by Carol and Paul--a child who appears to have no past, no family, and no memory--lurks a monstrous menace that will murder without motive or regret.

The book of accidents

by Chuck Wendig

Haunted by their tragic pasts, Nate and Maddie move back to their hometown with their son, who becomes involved with a strange boy who has a taste for dark magic that puts them at the heart of a battle of good vs evil.

Devolution

by Max Brooks

A modern retelling of the Bigfoot legend told as journal by a woman from a high-tech Pacific Northwest community who is isolated by a volcanic eruption and witnesses the flight of starving humanoid beings.

Zone one

by Colson Whitehead

In a world decimated by zombies, survivor efforts to rebuild are focused on Manhattan, where Mark Spitz works to eliminate remaining infected stragglers and remembers the height of the zombie plague.

Heart-shaped box

by Joe Hill

A collector of obscure and macabre artifacts, unscrupulous metal band musician Judas Coyne is unable to resist purchasing a ghost online, which turns out to be the vengeful spirit of his late girlfriend's stepfather.

The vampire chronicles collection

by Anne Rice

The first three novels in the Vampire Chronicles series: Interview with the Vampire, The Vampire Lestat, and The Queen of the Damned.

The Montauk monster

by Hunter Shea

In Montauk, New York, terrible monsters emerge from the sea every night, infecting the populace with a grotesque flesh-eating virus.

Certain dark things

by Silvia Moreno-Garcia

In Mexico City, where the vampires who live among humans are heavily policed, street kid Domingo helps an Aztec blood drinkers' descendant flee before the city is upended by the two vampires pursuing her.

A head full of ghosts

by Paul Tremblay

The lives of a normal suburban New England family are torn apart when 14-year-old Marjorie begins to display signs of what at first seems to be acute schizophrenia but may actually be demonic possession.

The graveyard apartment

by Mariko Koike

After moving to a new apartment complex next to a cemetery, a young family experiences strange and terrifying occurrences that send the other residents fleeing their homes, leaving them alone with a dark, evil something, or someone, residing in the basement.
