I know you're lying
by Daphne Benedis-Grab

Genre: Contemporary

Summary: Sasha , the popular mean girl has had her bag stolen and 4 culprits are called down to the principal: Maddie , Nora , Henry , and Jack. After talking amongst themselves , they figure out that none of them actually stole their bag and their mission is to figure out how. Having each of them using their detective skills and working together they find out the truth to be far more elaborate than they could have ever thought. The writing style keeps you interested and the content is definitely intriguing. I personally think that the content outweighs the flaws because the plot is interesting. Teen readers who like stories with detectives and an intriguing story will enjoy this book.
