Here One Moment
by Liane Moriarty
If you were told you had a certain amount of time left to live, would you do things differently? This is a story of grief, love, life, family, losses, and unexpected gifts. There is humor also. This is a wonderful, heartbreaking and heartwarming, hard-to-put-down read. Fantastic!

Long Island
by Colm Toibín
I loved this book! I loved it even though the ending had me yelling in the car. This sequel to Brooklyn picks up 20 years after Brooklyn - the story of an Irish girl who immigrates to America. The narration is FANTASTIC.

The Leftover Woman
by Jean Kwok
A good story about a Chinese woman who comes to the US to get back her young daughter who was given away without her permission. Definitely a commentary on the One Child policy in China and the problems associated with it. Great audio!

By Any Other Name
by Jodi Picoult
This story about two women playwrights, set hundreds of years apart, pulls you in and shakes you around. Did Shakespeare really write all those plays? Or did a woman, Emilia Bassano Lanier, write them? Hundreds of years later, Melina Green writes a play about Emilia and, inadvertently at first, also hides behind a male playwright. I loved both stories.
