

Dick Clark's American Bandstand: At the Hop - the Dancers

Photo credit: The Wall Street Journal

Thursday,
November 20, 2025
at
1:30 PM

Registration requested, but not required.
Visit bronxvillepl.librarycalendar.com

Kids raced home after school in the 1950s to watch Philadelphia teenagers dance on American Bandstand. Celebrity couples Kenny & Arlene and Bob & Justine would receive bags of fan mail and appeared on the cover of Sixteen Magazine. Host Dick Clark projected a boyish, clean-cut image and enforced the dress code. Features live Bandstand performances of At the Hop with Danny and the Juniors, Beyond the Sea by Bobby Darin, Rebel Rouser by Duane Eddy, De De Dinah by Frankie Avalon, Put Your Head on My Shoulder by Paul Anka, and more.

Presented by Rick Feingold

Note: this is the Part 2 sequel to Dick Clark's American Bandstand – Philadelphia and will feature more dance and music memories from the early years of Rock and Roll.

201 Pondfield Rd.
Bronxville, New York 10708 | (914) 337-7680
<https://bronxvillelibrary.org/>