After Purity

by Sara Moslener

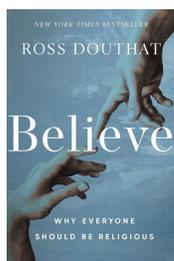

The author conducts a intersectional analysis of purity culture in white evangelical Christianity, revealing its profound impact on gender, sexuality, race, and national identity in the United States.

As a Jew

by Sarah Hurwitz

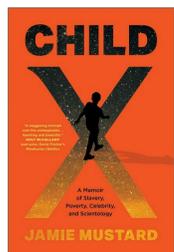

At thirty-six, Sarah Hurwitz was a typical lapsed Jew. On a whim, she attended an introduction to Judaism class, which sparked a journey of discovery that transformed her life.

Believe

by Ross Douthat

For searchers caught between doubt and belief and for believers struggling to reconcile faith with contemporary assumptions about science and progress, New York Times columnist Douthat shows how religious faith makes better sense of reality than skepticism or disbelief.

Child X

by Jamie Mustard

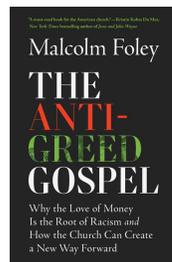

Jamie Mustard was born into one of the most influential fringe movements in the 1970s: Scientology. A dark, existential journey takes readers through Jamie's childhood in 'the movement,' his escape, and his rise into self-possession.

Heart of a Stranger

by Angela Buchdahl

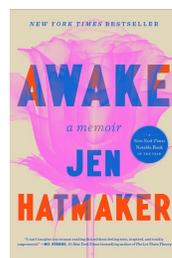

The first Asian American to be ordained as a rabbi offers a stirring account of one woman's journey from feeling like an outsider to becoming one of the most admired religious leaders in the world.

The Anti-Greed Gospel

by Malcolm Foley

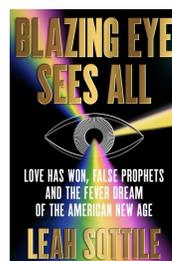

A Black Christian historian shows how racism is part of a cycle of self-interest that begins in a lust for power and money. The church can break this cycle by building communities of deep economic solidarity, anti-violence, and truth telling.

Awake

by Jen Hatmaker

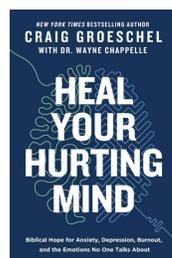

A beloved bestselling author and host of the For the Love podcast offers a brutally honest, funny, and revealing memoir about the traumatic end of her twenty-six-yearlong marriage, and the beginning of a different kind of love story.

Blazing Eye Sees All

by Leah Sottile

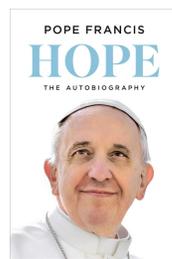

A journalist turns her investigative eye toward American New Age culture, and shows how the recent surge of interest in New Age ideas speaks to a culture that is woven into the very fabric of America.

Heal Your Hurting Mind

by Craig Groeschel & Wayne Chappelle

Bestselling author Craig Groeschel and psychologist Dr. Wayne Chappelle provide the biblical wisdom and clinical tools you need to find freedom from mental health issues. You don't have to keep living under the weight of anxiety, depression, or any emotion that's been holding you back.

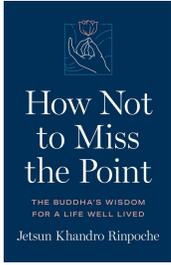

Hope

by Pope Francis

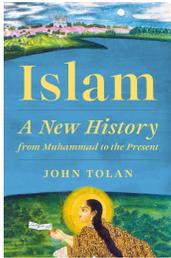

This memoir begins in the early twentieth century, with Pope Francis's Italian roots and his ancestors' migration to Latin America, continuing through his childhood, the enthusiasms and preoccupations of his youth, his vocation, adult life, and the whole of his papacy up to the present day.

SPIRITUALITY & RELIGION 2026

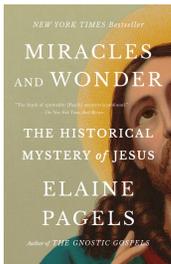

How Not to Miss the Point

by Jetsun Khandro Rinpoche
A beloved Buddhist teacher focuses on the Buddha's core teachings -- basic principles that are universally true, whether we are Buddhist or not -- as a way to cultivate our inner light and work for good, no matter how the world unfolds around us.

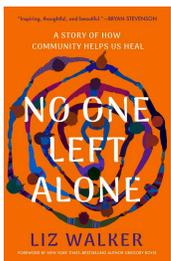

Islam

by John Tolan
A concise new narrative history of Islam that draws on the transformative insights of recent research to emphasize the diversity and dynamism of the tradition.

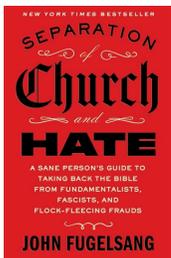

Miracles and Wonder

by Elaine Pagels
A renowned award-winning scholar sets out to discover how a poor young Jewish man inspired a religion that shaped the world. The book reads like a historical mystery, with each chapter addressing a fascinating question and answering it based on the gospels Jesus's followers left behind.

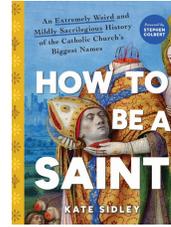

No One Left Alone

by Liz Walker
An extraordinary account of a Black church that gives its neighbors a space to share grief and offers a simple truth: the wounded heal best together. Walker joins healing to justice, showing how community helps us transfigure the traumas that encircle us.

Separation of Church and Hate

by John Fugelsang
For more than two centuries, the United States Constitution has given us the right to a society where church and state are separate. But Christianity has been hijacked by hate groups and politicians who seek to impose oppressive and unequal policies.

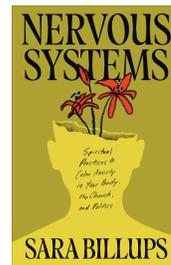

How to Be a Saint

by Kate Sidley
The ideal book for anyone who likes their comedy with a side of history and a dash of sacrilege. Dive into the wild stories of saints and the bizarrely bureaucratic process of canonization.

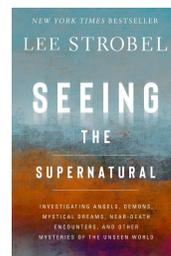

Mid-Faith Crisis

by Catherine McNiel
The faith that once seemed unshakeable may falter in the face of broken trust, unanswered prayers, and the harsh realities of worldly suffering. But you're not alone -- mid-faith crises are a shared human experience that can feel isolating yet are a crucial part of our spiritual journey.

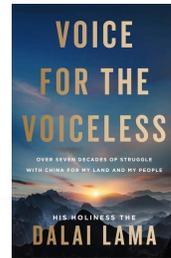

Nervous Systems

by Sara Billups
How can we live well in such an age as today rather than succumb to worry and anxiety? Discover how the biblical charge to be in the world, but not of it, is actually the secret to experiencing the peace Jesus promises his followers.

Seeing the Supernatural

by Lee Strobel
An investigative journalist and former atheist weaves together standout material from his bestselling books with dynamic new interviews with brilliant experts to investigate what we can know for sure about the mysterious -- and captivating -- supernatural realm.

Voice for the Voiceless

by Dalai Lama
In this unique book offering personal, spiritual, and historical reflections -- some never shared before -- His Holiness the Dalai Lama tells the full story of his struggle with China to save Tibet and its people for nearly seventy-five years.
