It's Not Her
by Mary Kubica
A quiet lake resort vacation turns into a nightmare - a double murder and a missing teenage niece. There are lots of twists and turns in this novel, mostly because you should never ASSUME!! Great page turner.

The People We Keep
by Allison Larkin
Loved this! Set in the 1990's, the novel revolves around a 16 yr. old girl whose father has left her to fend for herself. She steals her father's car and sets off to find her own way - and ends up finding her own family. Good discussion book!

The Right to Remain
by James Grippando
Another great legal thriller by James Grippando! Jack Swytech (criminal defense lawyer) and his wife Andi (FBI agent) are two characters that are always fun to come home to. This time Jack has a client who won't talk, not even to his lawyer. So how is Jack supposed to defend a client who won't talk to him? Quite the page turner.

Truly
by Lionel Richie
This memoir starts with Lionel's early days in college and the Commodores. I had no idea of the plethora of his work. The awards, the songs, the records. And the people he has known! It's amazing. And he has anecdotes for most. Is Lionel a little full of himself? Yeah, he is. Is it warranted? Yeah, it is. But a fan is a fan, and I'm a fan and his fans will enjoy this memoir. Great audio!
