Supported by Friends of the Bronxville Public Library

Presented by Brian Rose

Psycho-Analysis

A Look Inside Hitchcock's Masterpiece

Tuesday, October 27, 2026
4:00 p.m. | on ZOOM

To register and receive the zoom link, visit bronxvillepl.librarycalendar.com

Hitchcock crafted a masterful study of fear and anxiety that still has the power to shock. Psycho's impact and influence can be felt not only in every horror and thriller film of the last 60 years, but also in serious works of art in every medium. This lecture will explore Hitchcock's singular achievement, examining how the film was made and how it continues to haunt our cultural imagination.

BRONXVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY

201 Pondfield Rd., Bronxville, New York 10708
(914) 337-7680
https://bronxvillelibrary.org/